We're cooking up something sweet on Wednesday's Child. Meet Pamela, Sary, Deborah and Melinda – an adorable and closely bonded sibling set. Meeting these sweet kids at Rocky Mountain Chocolate Factory in Long Beach, California was a recipe for a delightful day.

Big sister Pamela was born in 1994. Like many girls her age, when she's not stirring up something good with her siblings she is likely to be found watching Hanna Montana and singing her heart out to High School Musical. Pamela is also athletic and enjoys baseball, basketball and soccer. Pamela sets a good example for her siblings by doing well in school and helping around the house.

Sary (pronounced Sa-ree), was born in 1996 and is the only boy in this sibling set. Sary is assertive, intelligent, and loves outdoor activities such as riding a bike and skating. Sary is a kind and protective big brother and dotes on his younger sibs.

Unfortunately, Sary is placed in a different foster home than his sisters and he looks forward to seeing them every chance he gets.

Deborah was born in 1997. Smart and intelligent, Deborah still struggles a little with English but is making great progress. These children are of Cambodian descent and Deborah's primarily language is Khmer. What does this active girl like? Cheerleading, riding a bike, playing basketball, soccer, tetherball and swinging on monkey bars are among her favorite activities. In her down time she likes to draw. Like her sister older, Deborah is also very helpful around the house and takes the initiative to do her chores and keep her room clean.

Born in 2001, Melinda is the quiet, easy-going one with just a pinch of mischievousness. This little darling will follow you every where and check out what you're doing and always with a sweet smile. Melinda, like Deborah is learning to be proficient in the English language and likes to follow Deborah and mimic everything that she does.

The love and bond between these siblings is thick and sweet, but life can throw one into a lot of sticky situations. These sibs make a great blend, so we're looking for that special family that is able and willing to bring and keep them all together. We invite you tune in to Wednesday's Child on September 3, 2008 during the FOX 11 10pm News for a sample of what make these kids so sweet.
